ORANGE, CALIFORNIA

Foreword

Once again we greet our old friends and customers, and those of you whom we hope to add to our growing list of satisfied customers.

We sincerely thank the many customers who have written to us expressing their satisfaction with the quality of stock received from us.

We take much pride in presenting our list of fine Iris and Daylilies. It comprises many of the latest and best of these fine perennials. We offer no collections, but continue our policy of allowing you to choose those varieties you especially want, at prices that compare favorably with those of other dealers.

We ship only large healthy one year plants, free from disease; and extras of known quality. If anything proves unsatisfactory, please advise us and we will do our utmost to make things right.

This year we are greatly reducing the number of Iris varieties growing in our garden. All of these varieties are in demand, and the list contains some of the finest Iris known to commerce. They are offered in two separate groups, following the alphabetical Iris listing. Some of these will sell out quickly, so please list a few substitutes.

Our garden is located two miles north of central Orange, on Taft Ave., between Batavia and Glassell Sts. Our mailing address remains the same, 754 North Shaffer Street, Orange, California.

Daylilies

Daylilies supply more beauty with less effort than any other plant we know. They flourish in almost any soil, and are suitable for any part of the garden. We have added many good new ones to our list this year. In describing the flower, the three large divisions are called petals, and the three smaller divisions are called sepals. De. denotes deciduous, and Ev. evergreen. We ship daylilies spring and fall, but the plants must be dug in clumps, so please do not ask for special shipping date. Starred varieties fall delivery only.
